Statement

Re: Supply chain compliance

To Whom It May Concern,

LONGi's imports to the EU comply with all EU and Member States laws and our own high standards and code of conduct. LONGi's code of conduct and personal ethics are clear: we prohibit child labour, prison labour, slavery and human trafficking, we do not engage in or tolerate any form of forced labor, and we do not purchase products that are produced by forced labour. We continue to take great efforts to achieve transparency and compliance to our supply chain, including independent audit of our traceability management process as needed.

LONGi has adopted a robust Suppliers' Code of Conduct, under which we require our suppliers to 'respect the basic human rights of all internal and external workers, and (among other actions) not to engage in nor tolerate any form of forced labour and human trafficking' before and when maintaining business relationship. LONGi has established policy and processes to conduct due diligence with our suppliers in order to make sure of their compliance with LONGi Suppliers' Code of Conduct. Any proven use of forced labour by any supplier will not be tolerated by LONGi.
